Introduction

The Great Commission is Jesus' final charge to His followers: to go into all the world, make disciples, baptize, and teach what He commanded. This monumental call isn't just for the early church — it's our call today.

Over the next 21 days, we'll explore what it means to answer this call fully, diving deeply into Scripture to discover the heart of God for missions, discipleship, and transformation. You'll find inspiration, encouragement, and practical guidance on how to step out in faith empowered by the Holy Spirit.

Whether you feel equipped or overwhelmed, this study invites you to grow in confidence and purpose. Together, we'll unpack Jesus' teaching, hear from the apostles, and see how the gospel continues to change the world when we say "Yes" to His call.

Get ready to reflect deeply, pray purposefully, and journal your journey as you engage with God's word on this life-changing mission. The world needs disciples — and God is calling you to be part of that transformation.

- Acts 1:8 NIV "But you will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes on you; and you will be my witnesses..."

Devotional: Jesus' Command and Authority for the Mission

Jesus' last words to His disciples come with a powerful promise and a clear command. He has all authority in heaven and earth, and because of that, He sends His followers out to make disciples globally. This mission reaches beyond borders and cultures, calling us to participate in God's redemptive work worldwide.

We are not alone in this task. Jesus promises the empowering presence of the Holy Spirit to guide and strengthen us as we bear witness. This promise transforms the daunting task of global discipleship into an achievable calling.

Today, consider what it means to go and make disciples. It's not just travel — it's a lifestyle of sharing the love, truth, and grace of Jesus. It's teaching others everything Jesus commanded, and it involves baptism, symbolizing new life in Christ.

Embrace the authority Jesus gives you, and the power He shares for this mission. The world awaits your obedience and Jesus' victory played out through your faithfulness.

Reflect and Apply

	What does Jesus mean when He says 'all authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me'?
	How can I rely on Jesus' authority and presence as I step into making disciples?
3.	What fears or obstacles do I need to surrender to fully answer this call?

Day 2: " Walking in the Power of the Holy Spirit

Devotional: Relying on the Spirit's Power for Witnessing

Empowered by the Spirit, the early disciples went from fear to boldness. The Great Commission isn't just a task — it's a Spirit-led adventure. Jesus knew his followers would need divine power beyond human effort to reach the ends of the earth.

When we receive the Holy Spirit, He becomes our Guide, Teacher, and Source of strength. The Spirit convicts hearts, opens doors, and emboldens us to testify. This power changes us from timid witnesses to courageous ambassadors of Christ.

Today, ask yourself if you are walking daily in dependence on the Spirit's power. How often do you pause to invite His guidance, trusting not your own strength but His? The mission succeeds when His power fills us and flows through us.

Let the Spirit be your teacher and empowerer today. Receive His strength and step out as a bold witness for Jesus.

Day 2: " Walking in the Power of the Holy Spirit

Reflect and Apply

1.	How have I experienced the Holy Spirit's power in my life so far?
	What does it mean to be a witness 'in Jerusalem, Judea, Samaria, and to the ends of the earth'?

- Colossians 1:28 NIV "We proclaim him, admonishing and teaching everyone with all wisdom..."

Devotional: Building Lasting Disciples through Teaching

Making disciples is more than evangelism — it's building lifelong followers of Jesus. This involves teaching, guiding, and sometimes challenging one another to live out Jesus' commands. Baptism marks a new beginning; teaching cultivates growth.

Paul's letters highlight the importance of passing faith to trustworthy people who will continue the process. Discipleship is relational, intentional, and ongoing. It shapes character, vision, and mission in believers.

Are we investing in others to grow in faith as Jesus directs? It can happen in small groups, one-on-one, or beyond culture and language barriers.

Disciple-making reflects God's heart for transformation — from seed to fruit.

Today, consider where you are in your discipleship journey and who God might be calling you to disciple.

Reflect and Apply

1.	What does it mean to be a disciple instead of just a believer?
	Who are the reliable people God is placing around me to disciple or be discipled by?
3.	How can I cultivate a lifestyle of teaching and learning God's commands?

Journaling Prompts

Write down any ways God might be calling you to discip others.	ole or mentor
3. List practical steps you can take to engage in disciple-m	aking today.

Prayer for Today

Father God, Teach me how to make disciples as Jesus commands. Help me to faithfully baptize, teach, and model your truth in all areas of life. Guide me to those ready to receive and grow in you. May I be patient, loving, and wise in nurturing others. Use me as your instrument for spiritual multiplication. In Jesus' powerful name I pray, Amen.

Supporting Scriptures

- Ephesians 6:18 NIV "And pray in the Spirit on all occasions with all kinds of prayers and requests."
- James 5:16 NIV "The prayer of a righteous person is powerful and effective."

Devotional: Powerful Prayer Opens Doors for the Mission

Prayer is the foundation of every disciple's mission. Without it, our efforts can become hollow or misguided. Prayer aligns our hearts with God's will and invites His power to move in the lives we touch.

Paul urges believers to be persistent and watchful in prayer, recognizing the spiritual battle behind evangelism and discipleship. Prayer opens doors for the gospel and for divine appointments with seekers.

Are we praying daily for opportunities, for those who don't know Jesus, and for boldness and wisdom? Prayer invites God's partnership, turning ordinary efforts into supernatural fruitfulness.

Commit to praying with expectancy and thanksgiving, trusting that God answers and works through your prayers.

Reflect and Apply

	How consistent and intentional is my prayer life regarding the Great Commission?
	What specific areas or people should I be lifting up in prayer for God's work?

Devotional: Harnessing the Power of Your Testimony

Your story matters. The power of a personal testimony is undeniable in advancing the gospel. It's a unique and authentic witness to God's transforming power in your life.

In Revelation, believers overcame the enemy through the blood of Jesus and by boldly declaring their testimony. Sharing your testimony can break down barriers, ignite faith, and cultivate curiosity about Christ.

Think about moments where God has changed, healed, or guided you. These stories are not just past experiences but living proof of Jesus' power. When we share them, we showcase not ourselves but His glory.

Today, practice recounting your testimony clearly and lovingly. Let your story become an invitation for others to meet Jesus.

Devotional: Praying for Courage and Bold Witness

Opposition is inevitable when living and proclaiming the gospel. The apostles faced threats but responded with prayer, trusting God to empower their witness with boldness.

Fear can paralyze, but God gifts us with power, love, and self-discipline to overcome. Boldness is not reckless noise but a Spirit-led confidence anchored in God's truth.

When challenges or rejection come, remember your mission springs from Jesus' authority and the Spirit's power. Keep your eyes on Him, not on opposition.

Today, ask God for courage to face fears and opposition with faith and unwavering resolve.

Supporting Scriptures

- Psalm 96:3 NIV "Declare his glory among the nations, his marvelous deeds among all peoples."
- Isaiah 6:8 NIV "Here am I. Send me!"

Devotional: Joining God's Mission to All Nations

God's desire is that every nation, tribe, and tongue hears the good news of Jesus Christ. Romans highlights a chain reaction: hearing leads to believing, believing to calling on God, and calling to salvation.

This reminds us of the urgency and vast scope of the Great Commission. The gospel is for everyone, everywhere.

Isaiah's willingness to say, "Here am I. Send me!" is a model of readiness to participate in global missions. Our role fits into a great narrative of God's redemptive plan.

Today, pray about how you might join God's global mission, whether through going, sending, praying, or giving.

Day 9: Doving Others as Jesus Commands

Devotional: Demonstrating Jesus' Love Through Our Mission

Love is the hallmark of Jesus' disciples. The Great Commission is not just about sharing facts — it's about embodying Jesus' love. This love attracts, transforms, and sustains relationships.

Jesus commands us to love as He loved — selflessly, sacrificially, and unconditionally. Our witness is credible only when backed by genuine love.

As we disciple and go, love must permeate every interaction, breaking down barriers and building bridges.

Devotional: Fostering Christ-Centered Community for Mission

The early church thrived because of committed community — learning, sharing, serving, and worshiping together. Kingdom work is sustained by the bonds of fellowship.

Discipleship happens best in community where believers are encouraged, corrected, and strengthened. A culture of love and mutual care reflects God's presence.

Today, reflect on your role within your faith community. How can you contribute to building a healthy, vibrant body of Christ that furthers the Great Commission?

Authentic discipleship displays Christ-likeness. The fruit of the Spirit reveals what Jesus' character looks like in us. People respond to the gospel not only through words but by witnessing transformed lives.

Humility, kindness, patience, and self-control are powerful testimonies in a broken world. Our call to disciple others includes modeling these qualities daily.

Devotional: Standing Firm with God's Armor

The battle for souls is real and spiritual. Paul's exhortation to put on God's armor reminds us we face invisible forces striving to derail God's mission.

Our defense and offense must be rooted in truth, righteousness, faith, salvation, the Word, and prayer. Recognizing spiritual opposition helps maintain faithfulness despite challenges.

Today, stand firm by embracing God's armor, guarding your heart, and remaining vigilant against discouragement or deception.

Engage prayerfully and confidently, knowing victory is assured in Christ.

This step marks the beginning of a disciple's journey and identification with Jesus' death and victory over sin.

Discipleship requires surrender. Paul's declaration shows dying to self and living fully for Christ. This life-centeredness fuels mission and testimony.

When Christ lives in us, daily living reflects His character, priorities, and love; this naturally draws others and empowers effective discipleship.

Consider today where you might still need to surrender control. Are you living intentionally for Christ in every aspect of your life?

Reflect and Apply

Today, reflect on areas where perseverance is needed and renew your commitment to press on.
