Devotional: Answering God's Call to Mentor Others

Mentorship is a divine calling that involves investing in others for generational impact. Paul's charge to Timothy reminds us that the knowledge and wisdom we have received are not just for personal gain but meant to be passed on to reliable individuals who can teach others in turn.

As you begin this journey, reflect on your own growth and the mentors who have shaped your life—what lessons were most valuable? Mentoring younger employees is not about exerting authority but about empowering and equipping them. Remember, God orchestrates your opportunity to make a lasting influence that extends beyond your tenure.

Let your willingness to mentor be a testimony of God's grace moving through your career.

Reflect and Apply

1.	Who in your career journey has shaped you significantly and how?
