Day 1: Throduction to Romans: God's Power for Salvation

Devotional: Understanding the Gospel's Power to Save

Romans 1:16 boldly declares the gospel as the power of God for salvation. Paul starts this letter with a passion for the good news—the message that God's power offers hope and eternal life to all who believe.

The gospel is not just an idea or moral code; it is God's mighty act to redeem humanity through Jesus Christ. It breaks down barriers, offering salvation indiscriminately to Jew and Gentile alike. In a world full of uncertainty, this message stands sure and firm.

As we embark on this study, reflect on what it means to live out the gospel daily. Are you confident in the power of salvation? Do you embrace the freedom and hope it offers? Paul's unashamed stance challenges us to do the same, boldly proclaiming and living the transformative message of Christ.

Your Verse

Supporting Scriptures

- Psalm 7:11 "God is a righteous judge, a God who displays his wrath every day."
- Romans 3:23 "For all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God."

Devotional: Understanding God's Holiness and Justice

Paul doesn't shy away from difficult truths. Romans 1:18 reveals that God's wrath is justly directed against sin, unrighteousness, and rebellion. God's holiness cannot coexist with sin; His justice demands that sin be addressed.

This passage reminds us that sin is not trivial; it angers God and separates humanity from Him. The world often downplays sin's seriousness, but Scripture reveals the gravity of turning away from God's perfect standard.

Yet, God's wrath is not arbitrary; it is a reflection of His justice and love. He desires no one to perish (2 Peter 3:9) and has made a way for us to be reconciled through Christ. Understanding God's wrath helps us appreciate the depth of His mercy and grace offered to repentant hearts.

Reflect and Apply

1.	What does God's wrath teach you about His nature?
2.	How do you personally respond to the reality of sin in your life?
3.	In what ways does understanding God's justice affect your view of grace?

- Habakkuk 2:4 "The righteous person will live by his faithfulness."
- Galatians 2:16 "A person is not justified by the works of the law, but by faith in Jesus Christ."

Day 3: W The Gospel Offers Righteousness by Faith

Devotional: Living by Faith in God's Righteousness

Romans 1:17 introduces a powerful theme: righteousness from God is granted through faith. This righteousness is perfectly just and holy, credited to believers not because of their works but because of their trust in Christ.

This truth is revolutionary, especially in a culture obsessed with merit. Paul reminds us that our right standing before God is a gift, received by faith alone. Faith is the means by which we participate in the justice of God, becoming alive spiritually and empowered to live according to His will.

As we meditate, let us consider our own faith journey. Is our righteousness dependent on our own efforts, or are we resting fully in the sufficiency of Christ? Trusting God fully changes how we live, giving us peace and assurance amid life's challenges.

Your Verse

Romans 3:23 - "For all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God."

Supporting Scriptures

- Ecclesiastes 7:20 "Indeed, there is no one on earth who is righteous, no one who does what is right and never sins."
- Isaiah 53:6 "We all, like sheep, have gone astray, each of us has turned to our own way..."

Devotional: Recognizing Our Universal Need for Grace

Paul emphasizes in Romans 3:23 that everyone has sinned and missed God's perfect standard. This sobering reminder levels us all before God; no one is exempt from human frailty and rebellion.

Recognizing our sinfulness is crucial because it points to our desperate need for salvation. Sin alienates us from God's glory and disrupts the intended harmony of life. Scripture consistently reveals that no human effort can restore us to God's favor.

But God's grace offers hope beyond measure. He provides a way for us to be cleansed and made right through Jesus. Acknowledging our sinful state isn't meant to discourage but to lead us to the saving work of Christ.

Reflect and Apply

2.	How do you respond when confronted with your own shortcomings?
3.	What does it mean to you that all fall short of God's glory?

Supporting Scriptures

- Galatians 2:16 "A person is not justified by the works of the law, but by faith in Jesus Christ."
- 2 Corinthians 5:21 "God made him who had no sin to be sin for us, so that in him we might become the righteousness of God."

Devotional: Peace Comes Through Justification by Faith

Romans 5:1 brings encouragement and assurance: through faith, we are justified and have peace with God. Justification means being declared righteous before God, not because of anything we do, but because of Christ's work on our behalf.

This peace is a restored relationship with God that removes guilt and fear. When Jesus bore our sins, He fulfilled the law's demands, freeing us from condemnation. This divine exchange frees us to live confidently as God's beloved children.

Understanding justification helps us grasp the security of our salvation and the love God has lavished on us. No longer must we earn God's favor; instead, we rest in His grace and live out His righteousness by faith.

Reflect and Apply

1.	How has the truth of justification by faith brought peace in your life?

Day 6: B New Life in Christ: Freedom from Sin

Devotional: Embracing Transformation Through Christ's Resurrection

The imagery of baptism in Romans 6:4 symbolizes dying to sin and rising to new life with Christ. Believers are invited to leave behind the old self and live transformed lives empowered by the resurrection.

This new life is not just a future promise but a present reality. Sin's dominion is broken, and the believer is called to walk in freedom and righteousness. It is a daily choice to live in the Spirit, reflecting the character of Jesus.

Day 7: 6 Slaves to Righteousness, Not Sin

Devotional: Living as God's Redeemed Servants

Paul declares a profound transformation in Romans 6:18: believers, once slaves to sin, are now servants of righteousness. Freedom from sin is not a license to do as we please but a call into devoted service to God.

Slavery to righteousness means an intentional living aligned with God's will rather than our own selfish desires. It is a freedom empowered by God that enables us to love, serve, and reflect His holiness.

This shift challenges believers to evaluate what masters their life. Are you a servant of sin or righteousness? Understanding our freedom equips us to live with purpose and gratitude.

Supporting Scriptures

- Psalm 119:97 "Oh, how I love your law! I meditate on it all day long."
- Galatians 3:24 "The law was our guardian until Christ came..."

Devotional: The Law as a Guide Showing Our Need for Christ

Paul wrestles with a common question in Romans 7:7: is the law sinful? His emphatic answer is no—the law is holy and good. However, the law highlights sin, making us aware of what separates us from God.

The law acts like a mirror, revealing our shortcomings and driving us to seek God's mercy and grace. Far from being a burden, the law shows God's holy standards and leads us to the Savior who fulfills the law perfectly.

As you reflect, consider how understanding the law's purpose deepens your appreciation for God's grace. Without the law, we may not fully grasp how much we need Jesus.

Reflect and Apply

1.	How has God's law revealed sin in your own life?

Paul honestly describes the tension Christians face in Romans 7:22–23: a desire to obey God's law battling a sinful nature. This inner conflict resonates with many believers as they experience longing for holiness yet face temptation.

This struggle highlights the depth of the human condition and the ongoing need to rely on the Spirit's power. The good news is that victory is not through human effort alone but through Christ who breaks sin's power.

The Holy Spirit is our helper, teacher, and guide. Through Him, we experience God's presence, power, and peace. This spiritual reality transforms struggles into victories and empowers us to bear fruit for God's kingdom.

Consider how often you rely on the Spirit's power. Do you feel His life-giving presence daily? Embracing this freedom helps believers move from trying to obey in their own strength to living dynamically in God's grace.

Being a child of God means intimate relationship, care, and provision from the Father. As heirs with Christ, we share in His glory and promise, offering hope and strength amid trials.

Reflecting on this identity can reshape how we view ourselves and our purpose. We are not alone or forgotten; we are part of a divine family, called to live with confidence and love.
